Special Interests

I worked as Neuromuscular Physiotherapist, my work was mostly based on skills to be brought out individually and in groups. It had improved my ability of working in field, whether as a team or on my own. I have ideally knowledge and skills in physiotherapy, joy of dealing with people, high motivation, willingness to learn, responsibility and flexibility, strong contact and communication skills.

I have learned how to organize my time very well due to all the deadlines. I would also have to get to the extracurricular activities on time or I wasn't let in. This taught me a lot about how much organization is important and useful. Also, the fact that I often have numerous assignments to complete in the same time span has taught me effective ways to multi-task in order to meet my needs.
